Claritas Laser Clinic

Popularity of tattoo removal, skin rejuvenation and laser hair removal sees local Claritas Laser Clinic move to larger premises

People who have seen remarkable results from tattoo removal to laser hair removal have praised the benefits of using local company, Claritas Laser Clinic, for highly professional services at 'nowhere near London prices'.

Such has been the success that the company, who were in Buckden, has now moved to larger premises in St Neots and are delighted with the relocation.

Equipped with the world's most advanced array of cosmetic lasers for tattoo removal, skin rejuvenation and the most pain-free, effective hair removal laser yet, Claritas was founded by highly trained clinicians, Melanie Ando and Sally James.

"Almost two years on and we've had many clients who have been so happy with our services that we often get word-of-mouth referrals. And there is no better testimony than that," say Melanie and Sally.

The PicoSure laser is the most technically sophisticated in the world with only a few throughout the UK and most being in London. Hence why clients travel to Claritas from as far afield as Derbyshire, Oxfordshire and London.

"The training in the use of these lasers is paramount and, whilst in the USA these treatments are strictly regulated, we aim to bring that same level of expertise to the UK for the first time," explains Melanie. "People must be confident when they are choosing this type of treatment and do their research to make sure the results they end up with are what they wanted."

Along with the PicoSure laser, the Soprano Ice effectively removes hair from all skin types and should not be confused with IPL (Intense Pulsed Light) which is not a true laser and is less effective. Hair removal is popular with both men and women and remarkable results are usually reached in just six to eight treatments.

As the trend for tattoos grows and more and more celebrities choose to adorn their bodies with artwork, so too has the trend to have tattoos removed increased. "Often someone has had a tattoo done in a partner's name who becomes an ex-partner and they want to return to a blank skin canvass", says Sally. "Or it could be they are tired of an existing tattoo and want to remove it in order to have a fresh design done. In either case, our laser treatment gives a clean, fast, effective and relatively painless result."
